

Vermont Unemployment Rate Declines to 3.2 percent in November

The Vermont Department of Labor announced today that the seasonally-adjusted statewide unemployment rate for November was 3.2 percent. This reflects a decrease of one-tenth of one percentage point from the revised October rate (3.3 percent). The national rate in November was 4.6 percent. As of the prior month's initial data, the Burlington-South Burlington Metropolitan NECTA was tied for the sixth lowest unemployment rate in the country for all metropolitan areas at 2.2 percent (not-seasonally-adjusted). Overall, Vermont's unemployment rate was also tied for sixth lowest in the country for the same time period.

Vermont Unemployment Rate Declines to 3.2 percent in November