ABOUT

At FoodScience® Corporation, we have one important mission: Helping people and pets live healthier lives. And every day, we ask ourselves, “How can we do better?”

For nearly 50 years, that has meant making the highest quality nutritional supplements and products, but it also extends to the care we provide our customers, the workplace culture we nurture and the local community we connect to.

It’s all about helping our customers, our employees, our community and their pets thrive. Whether it’s producing the highest quality, most effective nutritional supplements and products available, or providing a satisfying and engaging work environment, we’re always focused on our endeavor to inspire healthy lives.
