

ABOUT

GLOBALFOUNDRIES is a leading full-service semiconductor design, development, fabrication, and innovation company with locations across the globe. We think differently, design with excellence and enable “connected intelligence” across a growing universe of devices, networks and data centers, working with some of the world’s most inspired companies to develop and produce the semiconductors that are changing the way all people live today—and defining what’s possible for tomorrow.

If you are looking for a good job with a steady income and excellent benefits and you have what it takes to be a valued part of a manufacturing environment, we want to talk to you. You will receive on-the-job training, compressed work weeks and benefits that start on day one, the first day you start working for GLOBALFOUNDRIES.
