

WORKING FIELDS

ABOUT

Working Fields is a mission-driven staffing agency that specializes in placing people with barriers to employment. You may have heard our founder Mickey Wiles on VPR recently. We work with individuals in recovery from substance use disorder, people with past criminal convictions or other gaps in work history, and folks who are simply unable to find the right job on their own. We place people – we call them associates – with a wide range of employers, ranging from manufacturing to trades to customer service. We provide support by assigning a Recovery/Life Coach to each associate. We can support you to find that right job and be successful. We help people find that 2nd chance!
