

ABOUT

Lane Press, located in South Burlington, VT is a magazine printer. We are the only printer in North America dedicated solely to magazine publishers. These publishers rely on Lane Press to produce high quality publications, to automate magazine production and to facilitate timely and cost effective distribution. Our publishers include colleges, universities, associations, regional offices and special interest titles. Our employees are committed to delivering the best possible publication with every issue and it shows.

Lane Press offers a comprehensive benefits package including a 401(k) plan, medical, dental and vision coverage, paid vacation time, onsite physical therapy services and wellness program. Our company values respect, integrity and a commitment to excellence and we look for employees who do the same.
