ABOUT

Headquartered in Sheldon, VT, The Abbey Group knows good, local food. The company got its start more than a quarter century ago when it took on the task of feeding hungry students at Bellows Free Academy High School in nearby St. Albans. Today, The Abbey Group has grown, dishing up local around New England and Upstate New York.

It is—and always has been—our mission to ensure people are getting healthy and delicious meals every day. We care about our employees and customers, and we do what it takes to make sure they're happy.
